Module aims

This module is designed to allow students with limited prior knowledge in the Welsh language to learn linguistic skills that can be adopted in a professional bilingual working environment. The main focus of the module is to develop and further explore linguistic skills and requirements for the workplace. The emphasis of the module is about basic communication in a second language, and the development of applied communication skills in work-based contexts. Students will also explore Welsh legislation, national standards and Welsh culture with reference to their own industry.

Module Learning Outcomes - at the end of this module, students will be able to:

1	Demonstrate an understanding and developing proficiency in face-to-face exchanges in Welsh within professional settings.
2	Converse through basic Welsh face to face exchanges and apply the knowledge of Welsh syntax to translate more advanced greetings from Welsh to English.
3	Illustrate an understanding of vocational terminology and form extended sentences relevant to the workplace.
4	Demonstrate awareness of Welsh culture and Welsh language strategies and apply this to their own professional practice.

Assessment

Indicative Assessment Tasks:

Assessment for this module comprises one practical assessment and one written coursework:

Assessment 1: Oral presentations based on a series of dialogues – these dialogues will be presented individually and in pairs. Students will be assessed individually on their delivery within the pair work, the dialogues will be 20 minutes in length.

Assessment 2: Students will present worksheets based on their line of work and Welsh to English translation as well as an outline of their understanding of Welsh culture and strategies in relation to their own industry.
